The Gleam

Not of the sunlight,
Not of the moonlight,
Not of the starlight,

O, young mariner,
Down to the haven,
Call your companions,
Launch your vessel
And crowd your canvas,
And, ere it vanishes
O'er the margin,

After it, Follow it,
Follow the Gleam.

Querida Donna,
Suero para tu en futuro feliz y el realizamiento de todos sus sueños. Good Luck

Foreword

As the doors to the 1957-1958 school year opened, students found themselves in new surroundings. The opening marked the completion of William Chrisman Division I and extensive remodeling to the interior of William Chrisman Division II. Freshmen and sophomores enjoyed larger lockers, wider halls and a new cafeteria in Division II, while juniors and seniors appreciatively used the modern classrooms in the new building.

In the opening assembly at Division II, a student prayed, "As we open the doors of our classrooms seeking knowledge, may we also find the values of warm friendship, good sportsmanship, and right moral conduct." This was our goal for the year.

To the remaining students, these doors will close another chapter of their high school life, but for the graduating seniors, these doors will lock the memories of fun-filled school days in their hearts and will present the threshold to a future of success.

Dear Donna,
Please believe me when I say your friendship has meant a great deal to me this year. It has been just loads of fun being together. I have picked a great gal. I've been fun doubling too, and we'll totally be doubling some more, I hope so. I'd like to see you late this summer and maybe I will.
I'll be great if we get to make up our minds about nursing this year! Who knows we may be a couple of Florence Nightingales.
A wonderful girl.
Your friend,
Janet V.

Dear Donna,
Kid, it's been just great getting to know you even better this year. I want you to know so much that your friendship has meant so much to me this year to come. You have a personality and you will really stay & sweet as you are now. Be good always trust in God & have faith in yourself. God Bless

Hubert Wheeler, State Commissioner of Education, gives the address for the dedication of the new William Chrisman high school September 22, 1957

Music for the dedicatory service was two numbers sung by the Girls' Choir, directed by Carder Manning, music instructor

Dedicated to serve youth

Chatting informally in the front hall of the new building before the ceremony are Dr. O. L. Plucker, Mrs. Frank Baldas, Mrs. Floyd L. Snyder, Sr., and Mr. Wheeler. Mrs. Snyder was in charge of the program. Dr. Plucker spoke briefly. The Rev. H. M. Hunt, pastor of the First Baptist Church, gave the invocation. Administrators and architects were platform guests. The five hundred guests toured the building during the afternoon and enjoyed refreshments in the cafeteria served by the Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Earl Wade, president, and Mrs. John McDonald, hospitality chairman, were in charge. Mrs. O. L. Plucker, Mrs. Guy Carter, Mrs. Joseph F. Benson and Mrs. Emory C. Parks presided at the punch bowls.

Our guide posts to the future, the faculty, help us build fine character, good habits, and wholesome behavior. Their hard work often seems unappreciated; but to each student, they will be remembered for their constant efforts in helping us become better citizens.

William Chrisman Division I is all that the Board of Education, administrators, staff members and students have dreamed of. Division II, with extensive interior remodeling, has also become much more adequate for high school student use. It has been a real pleasure to see the complete adjustment that has been made to some of the best facilities for secondary education in the state.

Taxpayers are proud and happy for students to have the best facilities the district can afford for high school pupils. It is the hope of the Board of Education that students will prepare themselves for a satisfying and happy adult life.

opens doors of opportunity

Guy Carter
Administrative Assistant

Dr. Plucker with the Board of Education has been busy with the building program of the Independence school district the past several years. He has become aware of the significance of doors.

He knows, "Home, school, factory or church each has its doors. Life is filled with doors, some to keep us in, some to keep us out, but all to lead us from here to there if we hold the key, know where we are going and seek the door that opens the way.

"Your schools are at once key, guide, and door. It is my desire that every student who passes through the doors of William Chrisman high school will use the keys he finds there and be guided to open the great doors of a rich life of service to all

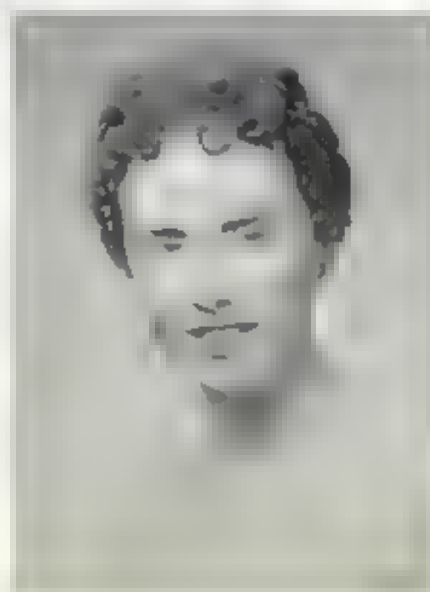

Dr. Guy Carter, administrative assistant, has numerous duties. He has charge of teacher personnel, transportation, and pupil attendance. Other duties are in the areas of school finance, school law, state reports, and other statistical information as assigned to him by the superintendent of schools

O L. Plucker
Superintendent

Working for the fourth year in the Independence school system, Dr. Carter says, "With the completion and occupation of our modern high school new doors were opened to the pupils of the Independence school system. Buildings and equipment are important but much more significant are the attitudes of parents and pupils. If we avail ourselves of these opportunities, our contributions to society will be greatly enriched."

Dear Donna,
It has been fun knowing you these past years. It has been great as fun in pop clubs. I wish you all the luck that you may want as President of Pop Club. I know you put your heart into it and we will have a great President for young people to have a new idea about a pop club.
I hope you will have a lot of educational opportunity at all levels, and the extension of it as a lot of fun and intriguing

W. C. Parks, principal of William Chrisman High School II, has been in the Independence schools since 1951. During that time he has served as junior high school counselor, director of guidance services, vice-principal of William Chrisman for one year, and principal of Ott secondary school.

Their Planning

His Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in Education were earned at Central Missouri State College, at Warrensburg. Mr. Parks has done post graduate work at the University of Kansas.

Leroy Brown, vice-principal, came to the school system in 1955 from the Waverly, Missouri, public schools. He taught ninth grade science for a year and a half until he became vice-principal of Ott secondary school the second semester of the 1956-57 term. His Bachelor of Science degree was conferred by the Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, in 1951; his Master of Arts degree by the University of Kansas City in 1956.

Mr. Benson who spent much time and effort in planning and furnishing William Chrisman, Division I, well realizes that the new building with its thirty-two doors open is a symbol of the many opportunities offered to each one who enters for the purpose of enriching his experiences. Those who are content with meager successes may find too late that through carelessness the door has closed to their opportunities. Therefore, as the door swings open, each must realize its values and hold on to its key of success.

Mr. Lefever's philosophy concerning "doors of opportunity" is, "This year we opened new doors into a wonderful new building. To many of us

directs our path

this was a new and most satisfying experience. It gave us a stimulus to greater achievement and a fresh viewpoint on many problems, as viewed in more spacious and pleasant surroundings.

"A building, however nice, does not guarantee a school in the true sense of the word. Nor does it insure the best educative process. The door that opens to these concepts is not made of wood and glass, but of intangibles. It is the attitude of curiosity and intelligent interest."

"May we have all the concern and appreciation for the care and use of the building we extend, and also may we make it the means to an effective place to learn, to exchange ideas and live in a happy group."

This year, it was the purpose of the Parent-Teacher Association to acquaint the parents with the school curriculum, extra-curricular activities and school regulations. Back-to-school nights provided an opportunity for parents to meet the teachers and to become better acquainted with school life.

Sponsoring Bear Towns and the senior dance are two projects of the Parent-Teacher Association. Bear Town plans are made with a committee of teenagers selected by the student council. These provide many happy hours for the "Bears." The senior dance on commencement night in a setting of music and colorful decorations helps the seniors close the doors on four happy years of work and memories as they leave William Chrisman

Thus, our horizon broadened

Miss Page, Miss Riller, Mr. Lefever and Miss Boerbaum chat informally in one of the new teachers' lounges at Division I

Eighty-eight teachers at William Chrisman have been busy throughout the year guiding students through all the doors of opportunity down the avenues of learning. With their knowledge they direct boys and girls toward a better understanding of all their endeavors. This direction is given in the classroom, departmental, and extra curricular activities.

Among the persons who do a great deal for each and every student are the bus drivers. Although they are rarely thanked for their services, these are the persons who deliver us to and from school each day. The students of the Independence school system are delivered to the open doors of the school buildings by the Pace Bus Service every school morning and returned to their homes in the afternoon. This service not only runs for regular classes, but for many outside activities

These ladies prepared and served lunches for the students of Division II. It was their privilege to be the first to operate the new cafeteria. In this picture Mrs. Graham is discussing procedures and plans with her helpers in preparation for the first day of operation—Wednesday, September 25.

The orbit of the school years revolves around the 2050 students of William Chrisman High School. Their classes, achievements, and activities are the contents of this book. Each student is an integral part of this large family. Through the efforts of each one, the 1957-58 school year has become a memorable one.

Classes

The class of 1958

Wayne Dugger
President

Wayne Dugger served as president of the 1958 graduating class. Wayne also was elected president of the 1955 freshman class. He was an active member of the student council, National Thespians, band, orchestra, and a cappella choir. Wayne has been captain of the band and drum major. Wayne plans to become an engineer and attend Graceland.

In the fall of 1955 the first graduating class of Division I entered Chrisman as sophomores. They became an active and important part of Chrisman. School spirit was expanded by these sophomores. They became an essential segment of Chrisman.

Richard Worden
Vice-President

Serving as vice-president of the senior class is Richard Worden. He has been a member of the football team, "C" club, and a cappella. After graduation Richard plans to attend Graceland College. Richard wants Chrisman to keep its school spirit and be united even though there are two divisions.

As juniors this class began assuming the responsibility of leadership with the seniors. They participated in clubs, plays, and the many other activities. Many achievements were attained by this class for Chrisman. Their influence was felt throughout the year.

Sherri Bartlett
Secretary

Serving as secretary of the senior class is Sherri Bartlett. Sherri has also been secretary of her class as a junior, sophomore, and a freshman. She is an active member of the Shakespearean Literary society. In her junior year Sherri was elected Halloween attendant and she was elected Halloween queen her senior year. Sherri feels that she is fortunate to be in the first graduating class from William Chrisman Division I.

During their senior year this class became the leaders of Chrisman. They served their school well. Even though there were two divisions at Chrisman, this class helped to unite the school and promote school spirit. The honors and achievements which this class has earned will be remembered by other classes at Chrisman.

Marian Denham
Treasurer

Elected as treasurer of the senior class was Marian Denham. She has been an active member of the Shakespearean Literary society, Future Homemakers of America which she served as a recording secretary, National Honor society, student council and band. Marian plans to attend Southwest Baptist College in Bolivar, Missouri, to train as a missionary teacher. Marian feels that it is a great honor to be a member of the first graduating class at Division I.

The climax of the 1958 school year for the seniors was graduation. These years at Chrisman have prepared them to become the future leaders of the nation. Success is ahead for the seniors as the doors of life open.

Charlyne Searcy, Sharon Mills, George Taylor, and J. D. Williamson are searching for new ideas for ring crest.

Leading the junior class as president is George Taylor. George has played football for the past five years. Physics and algebra II are his favorite classes. He intends to become an electrical engineer and go to the University of Kansas or the University of Missouri.

J. D. Williamson holds the office of vice-president. He is a member of Spanish club, National Thespians, Junior Red Cross, and has played football for two years. J. D. plans to attend K State and become an engineer.

Secretary of the junior class is Charlyne Searcy. Charlyne is treasurer of Junior Red Cross and an active member of Spanish club and the Shakespearean Literary society. She would like to attend Graceland college and be a private secretary or a fashion designer.

Serving as treasurer of her class is Sharon Mills. Sharon held this same office when she was a sophomore. The Shakespearean Literary society, Pep club, Art club, and Spanish club are her extracurricular interests. She would like to attend Graceland and become a kindergarten teacher.

As they rehearse for the junior play, Janet Vaughan explains to Jackie Huggins, J. D. Williamson, and Bill Fong that she has just seen a ghost.

Looking at the Thanksgiving decorations, Janis Lindsay, James Langton, Steven Smith, and Suzie Corken.

Coaches provide inspiration

William Chrisman Bears opened their football season September 13, 1957, with East high school. Through hard practice and continual enthusiasm Chrisman strove to win. The team won their games, not always with scores, but with sportsman-like conduct. Due to several injuries Chrisman was handicapped from the first.

During the season Chrisman was able to maintain a 3-7 record. Those games won were the East game, 13-7; St. Joe Benton, 12-6; and Park Hill, 46-7. The Park Hill game was a benefit game for Leslie Curtis, a player injured at the beginning of the season, who passed away a week after the game.

William Chrisman placed three players and four honorable mentions from the team on the Pony Express Conference League All-Star team. George Taylor, junior offensive and defensive; Bob Tyron, senior defensive; Joe Keeton, senior defensive; honorable mention, Ron Cotter, Larry Sull, DeWayne McGowan, juniors, and Dick Beattie, senior.

FRESHMAN COACHES: Newton Ward, Joe Gardner, Ed Russell.

These pepsters, Carol Sue Mikes, Linda Jane Clements, seniors; Janet Vaughan, Judy Oberhelman, juniors; Beverly Reeves, Donna Dobson, sophomores; and Janice Gillespie, freshman, aroused enthusiasm among the crowds of students, parents, and teachers which well represented the spirit of William Chrisman. These girls represented Chrisman at all athletic games and were proud to hail the name of Chrisman. In foul or fair weather these peppy girls cheered the teams to victory.

The 1957-58 basketball season brought Chrisman a record of 14 wins and 11 losses, a 56.0 percentage. This year's record was not the best Chrisman has ever had, but it was one we can be proud of. In the Pony Express Conference, Chrisman placed third with a four win, four loss record.

The Bears, coached by Travis Hopkins, brought Chrisman many seasonal highlights. Among them were the two victories over Northtown, the defeat of Van Horn and the overtime, sudden death victory over Lee's Summit.

"Practice makes perfect," so Cary Hall and Bob Wilcox spend many hours on the rifle range perfecting the skill of shooting

The one hundred ninety-four cadets enrolled in ROTC at Chrisman Division I and II of 1957—58 learned many phases of military tactics. The first and second year cadets studied varied courses, such as hygiene and first aid for first year cadets and map reading for second year cadets. Courses such as "Aerial Photography" are offered to the third year cadets.

Chrisman facilities, along with new school building, are the best in the country. These include modern classrooms, well equipped indoor rifle range, and the advantage of having an extensive wooded area near the school for training maneuvers.

ROTC cadets always look forward to annual activities which include a federal inspection, a field night, an assembly, and the Military Ball. Habitually Chrisman's ROTC cadets receive the top honor ratings at the federal inspection. This year the eight sponsors for the annual Military Ball were chosen by the second and third year cadets only.

Future staff members work

Marcia Yates and Nancy Johnson sell Gleam subscriptions to Jeanne Resch and Bob Richardson in Chrisman II hall before school.

Thirty-four seniors became historians and recorders of memories of the 1957-1958 school year when they edited 17 issues of the Envoy, a six page bi-weekly newspaper and the Gleam, a 200 page yearbook.

This increase in size of the publications is due to the inclusion of the freshman class in the high school this year. Two new phases of the work were including a sophomore English class in the department and deleting advertisements from the annual.

Twenty-seven juniors studying Publications I helped sell subscriptions for the Envoy and the Gleam and student pictures in Division I. They learned to edit a newspaper and actually published the sixteenth issue. After studying practical yearbook procedures, the 1959 Gleam staff planned the '59 annual.

The 28 students in the sophomore English class, taught by Sarah Ellen Campbell, publications teacher, collected news for the Envoy, sold subscriptions and pictures and helped with the collection of material for the yearbook from Division II. This was done in addition to their regular class work.

The eighth annual publications banquet was held at the Presbyterian Church.

Promoting better relations between students, faculty and community are the chief objectives of the student council. Its membership includes one representative from each of Chrisman's homerooms. The sponsor is Miss Thelma Myers.

The council sponsored two mixers—"Back-to-school" and "Gleam-signing." The community service project for the year was adopting a family for each homeroom and presenting them with Christmas baskets. Another important project for the council was revising the WCHS handbook and compiling material for a "buzz" book which includes the name, address and telephone number of each student.

A member of both the National and Missouri Association of Student Councils, Chrisman's council sent four officers, Eddie Cooper, Ronnie Resch, Linda Long and Marcia Johnson, to the state student council convention at Jefferson City in July, 1957.

William Chrisman Division II worked with William Chrisman Division I this year through the school student councils. The Chrisman II student council helped Chrisman I in promoting Bear Town, school plays, football and basketball games.

One of the most important projects of student council Division II was the adoption of twenty families for the distribution of Christmas baskets. Also, preceding the Christmas vacation, student council provided and decorated a Christmas tree for the main hall.

Planning and presenting assemblies was another activity of student council this year. Revising the part of the William Chrisman handbook that applied to William Chrisman Division II was also an accomplishment. Student council compiled the names and addresses of all the students in Division II into books that were sold to the students during the year.

Discussing the type of pin to be selected by Honor society members are Mr. Lefever, James Snodgrass, Beverly Blum, Janice DeTray, and Beverly Huhn

As a reward for outstanding character, service, leadership, and scholarship thirty-six seniors and twenty-seven juniors were initiated into the National Honor society at an evening program for parents and members.

To become a member of the society, a senior must rank in the upper one-third of his class and a junior must be in the upper ten per cent. The faculty then selects ten per cent of the seniors and five per cent of the juniors.

Officers who presided during the year were president, Terry Meloan; vice-president, Beverly Huhn; and secretary-treasurer, Joan Doig. Gregory Lefever, vice-principal, is society sponsor.

Encourages appreciation of art

Examining pieces of art to be shown at the annual exhibit are Lloyd Dobson, Diane McCain, John Hostetler, Pat Ward and Beverly Trescott

To promote a greater knowledge and appreciation of art is the purpose of the National Art Honor society. The members strive for greater skill in producing art.

In order to become a member of this society, each student is required to be a member of the Art club and to exhibit at least ten pieces of his art work in three different media which are judged by competent artists.

The society's formal initiation, an impressive ceremony, was held in the spring. There, an exhibition of each member's work was presented and prizes were awarded to first year, second year, and third year work.

Officers for the year were: president, John Hostetler; vice-president, Lloyd Dobson; secretary, Patty Ward; treasurer, Diane McCain; reporter, Beverly Trescott.

Presenting a pin to new member Laura Gilbert is Marilee Clemens as Beverly Trescott and Judy Jo Johnson introduce Steve McConnell to the Quill and Scroll magazine.

Quill and Scroll, International Honorary society for high school journalists, encourages staff members to maintain a high standard of workmanship in their publications.

Membership in Quill and Scroll is open to a student of junior or senior class rank who is an active worker on the Envoy or Gleam staff. Members must be in the upper third of their class, do acceptable work in publications, be recommended by the publications adviser, and be approved by the executive secretary of the organization.

The initiation was held in the Theater in the Round in the spring. New members were presented pins at this time.

Officers of Quill and Scroll were president, Marilee Clemens; vice-president, Beverly Trescott; secretary, Beverly Blum; treasurer, Judy Jo Johnson; and reporter, Donna Maness.

Sponsors annual one-act contest

The National Thespian Honor society completed another year with the production of the annual One-Act Plays. Each year, one of the three plays, directed by Miss Dorothy Bierbaum, troupe sponsor, is selected to go to the regional contest. If the play wins at regionals, it goes on to state.

Other activities of the Thespians included their annual banquet held in the spring when the "Best-Thespian-of-the-Year" was announced, and the new members were initiated. The new members receive their congratulatory card, membership

To become a member of National Thespians, a student must earn ten points acquired by participation in school plays or in production work such as make-up, lighting, etc. These points are given at the discretion of the troupe sponsor. After a student becomes a member, he may earn additional points through outside participation in dramatic activities and school plays. The student must maintain an "M" average in all subjects.

Varied activities further

Touching-up a few scenes from a sketching trip are Charlotte Norman, John Witherspoon, Nancy Brown, Charles Robison and Vickie Thacker.

Three of the main activities of the William Chrisman Division II Art club were visiting art exhibits, listening to art lectures, and going on sketching trips. Robert Tindall, local artist, talked to the group and showed some of his paintings.

Enjoying and furthering the knowledge of art was the aim of the club. Anyone with an interest in art was eligible for membership.

Miss Virginia Jennings is the sponsor of Art club. The officers are president, Vickie Thacker; vice-president, Marnita Crookston; secretary, Nancy Brown; treasurer, John Witherspoon; reporter, Charlotte Norman.

Throughout the year the members of the Art club used their talents toward beautifying Christmas. Since its beginning, the organization has played an active part in such things as advertising for school plays, and providing programs and scenery for the various activities

Under the sponsorship of Louis Braley, the club participated in several trips, including an all-day visit to the art department at Warrensburg. Members of the club participated in the art exhibit held at Emery, Bird, Thayer's in Kansas City.

Officers for the first semester were president, Jane Martin; vice-president, Kitty Hansen; secretary, Patty Ward; treasurer, Diane McCain; reporter, Beverly Trescott.

Commercial club's goal this year was to buy a machine for use in the commercial departments. Members this year bought white jackets and put green shamrock emblems with the club's initials on them for their uniforms.

Some of the activities in which they participated were bake sales, a come-as-you-are initiation, a pizza pie party and trips to various businesses to learn how they were operated.

The Cooperative Occupational Education program in the William Christman high school is a combination of industrial and distributive cooperative vocational program, which has undergone a change to be known by the present title.

The student is in class part of the day and on the job part of the day. Several occupations are represented in the program, each student studying information related to the field in which he is employed.

This year there are 65 students. These are employed by 44 business firms and represent 38 different jobs. The average student works 29 hours per week.

The student learner may take training in any occupation in which an acceptable local training agency is available. Some of the fields in which students are trained are as follows: auto mechanics, printing, photography, salesmanship, merchandising, sheet metal work, plumbing, electricity, cleaning and pressing, meat cutting, service station operation, radio-television repair, library work, telephone operation, sewing machine demonstration, and many others. By employing students in this program, employers make a decided contribution

Supplements class work

The French club was organized to supplement regular class work. Among its activities are attending French movies, corresponding with pen-pals in French-speaking countries, and seeing slides and educational films which present the life and customs of the country. Two annual social activities are a party near Christmas time and a banquet in the spring which features food prepared according to French recipes.

Last year's bake sales provided the money to finance the purchase of readers to supplement the regular text book and a large French flag for the class room.

The French club officers were president of both divisions, Jeannine Hutchings from Division I. Other Division I officers were vice-president, Judy Watson; secretary, Sue Childers; treasurer, Jim Dyer; reporter, Beverly Blum. Division II officers were vice-president, David Oney; secretary, Diane Taylor; treasurer, Philip Hininger; reporter, Jack Travostino.

To interest young people in the teaching profession, the Chrisman chapter of Future Teachers of America was organized in January, 1949. It now has an average annual membership of 25 at Chrisman I

During the school year the members learned about the different fields of teaching. Speakers spoke to them on the advantages and disadvantages of the teaching profession.

The senior who proved to be the most deserving and promising future teacher received a one hundred dollar scholarship. The money for the scholarship was raised by the organization through dues and projects during the year.

In the spring Future Teachers had a visitation day with each member visiting a class which featured the field in which he intends to teach

Strive toward new horizons

Getting ready to arrange a display case, Dixie Davenport and Linda Linnenbringer hold the FHA emblem as Patsy Votava and Carol Witherspoon are interested in the emblem which represents their club.

"Future Homemakers of America toward New Horizons," is the motto of the Future Homemakers at Division II. Their symbol is a house sitting on a pair of hands. The colors of the Future Homemakers club are red and white, and their flower is a rose.

An informal initiation was held at the Watson Memorial church. The girls being initiated into the organization were asked to wear original hats made from kitchen utensils. The girls' mothers were invited to attend the formal initiation of officers which was held in the school auditorium.

The Future Homemakers of America at Division II attended a sub-district meeting at Raytown and an informal tea at Van Horn high school where a representative of the Patricia Stevens modeling school came to talk to the group. At Christmas an exchange of gifts and refreshments were served at a party held at the school.

The officers of the Future Homemakers of America at Division II were president, Dixie Davenport; vice-president, Linda Linnenbringer; secretary, Carol Witherspoon; treasurer, Patsy Votava; parliamentarian, Rogene Fike; reporter, Joan Piper; song and game leader, Teddy Flagg; publicity chairman, Jewell Welton; and historian, Phylis McDole.

Club meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of the month. The sponsors for the 1957-58 school year were Mrs. Carol Brown and Mrs. Mary Thomas.

The Future Homemakers of America is a national and state organization for anyone interested in homemaking skills. An informal initiation, held in the fall at Mary Louise Hall's house, was to welcome new members. Also a tea was held for all members at Elaine Embry's house.

The regular meetings of FHA were of both the social and educational natures. At one meeting, the Rev. King, minister of the Maywood Baptist church, spoke on "Religion in the Home."

Busy in district activities, the club had several girls who were candidates for district and state offices. Elaine Embry was elected president of the sub-district. Chrisman girls provided refreshments for the other schools at the sub-district meeting held at Raytown.

Officers for the year were president, Elaine Embry; vice-president, Glenda O'Dell; secretary, Marian Denham; treasurer, Marilyn Denham; reporter, Diane Bates; historian, Martha Pritchett; and parliamentarian, Lynn Amerine. The sponsor was Mrs. Nevada Dean.

Serving school community

Kay Johnson, Steve Mitchell, Marilyn Caskey and Nancy Brown plan and prepare pages for one of the albums which will go into the Junior Red Cross chest for children overseas

To serve the school, community, nation, and the world is the aim of Junior Red Cross. Organized for the first time at Chrisman, the Junior Red Cross council was set up in the fall of 1957.

The enrollment drive to get workers to help fill the school chest played a big part in many of the students' activities. Homerooms contributed to the chest fund, which purchased the necessary articles for the school chest. A foreign school abroad received this American treasure chest.

Another important activity that evoked much work was the International Correspondence Exchange Album filled with photographs and drawings of Independence and nearby areas.

Nearly $170 was raised at the Junior Red Cross "Barefoot Bop." The profits from this dance paid the cost of JRC pictures in the GLEAM and the remainder was added to the chest fund

American Junior Red Cross sponsors training camps throughout the United States. Several William Chrisman students have participated in these training centers. Our school has promoted her spirit through this energetic program of Junior Red Cross.

nation and world is aim of JRC

Junior Red Cross was organized for the first time at Chrisman in the 1956-57 school year. It has been a national organization for more than forty years. Promoting friendship, better understanding, and giving service to others in the community, country and with foreign nations is its purpose.

American Junior Red Cross members plan entertainment for hospital patients, for children and for elderly people in institutions. They often make supplies such as food carts, party decorations, favors, and many other items that are delightful, useful, and helpful; especially, for the unfortunate persons.

Filling the school chest for the second year was this year's principal activity. The March fund drive collected the money from the homerooms in order to purchase the items for the chest. School and sports' supplies are generally the materials that fill it. The chests were sent to foreign schools to aid them in learning, and to give them more knowledge of American life.

Other projects were the filling of Christmas socks for men in Veterans' hospitals, and a sock hop. A correspondence album was made to be sent abroad.

Officers for the year were president, Linda Long; vice-president, Jack Miller; secretary, Patti Miller; and treasurer, Charlyne Searcy.

The library assistants at Division II derive valuable work experience. The assistants learn to perform a routine job faithfully and accurately over a long period of time. The knowledge and understanding of library arrangement and procedures pay these students dividends not only in high school and college but throughout their future careers. This may also lead to a career as a librarian.

Voluntary work in the library is a form of social service to the school. This year pupils worked each morning before school and three assisted for a half hour or longer after school. Such assistants followed a schedule prepared by the librarian, Miss Pulliam.

Those who work during class periods perform varied tasks as the need arises. They check books in and out, put cards in returned books, shelve books, mend, assist in preparing new books for circulation, type, keep library materials in neat order, help pupils using the library when necessary, decorate bulletin boards, and clip and mount pictures.

Most of the assistants belong to the regular Library club, but because of bus schedules a few are unable to stay for meetings. At the meetings library procedures, problems, and future special work is discussed. Frequently a social period follows the regular meeting.

The club usually has one major social activity each school year which is decided upon by the club.

The officers for the year were president, Elizabeth Zyskowski; vice-president, Charlotte Norman; and secretary, Mary Anna Wood.

JoAnn Bissell, president; Sharon Prouty, secretary-treasurer; Lynn Amerine, reporter; and Judy Taylor, vice-president are the Library club officers. They are enjoying the books of the library in a pause for relaxation

New facilities enjoyed in the new library at Division I were its spaciousness, plenty of light, and conference rooms for students. An average of 850 students per week used the library to aid them in their work.

A welcome was extended to all teachers to bring their classes into the library to work; and they often did. In such cases reference books were pointed out and displayed for the various units being studied. Students studying from Words Are Important, used the up-to-date Webster's Dictionaries.

Consisting of eleven members, the library club helped students find reference and fiction books. The purpose of the library club is to teach the members how to be library assistants. The girls also learned the Dewey Decimal System, how to check books and how to shelve them; but the most important task was learning to assist students in finding research material and fiction books that they would enjoy.

Outside activities were planned throughout the year. Among these activities were a fall picnic, a line party, a pot luck dinner at Mrs. Piper's home, and a picnic in the spring.

The officers were JoAnn Bissell, president; Judy Taylor, vice-president; Sharon Prouty, secretary; and Lynn Amerine, reporter.

Rowena Cleaver holds civil defense posters which were distributed to the Independence High School. Lewis Long, Joe Lee and Bob Nichols are also where others will be placed.

A newly organized club at Division II this year was the Independence Civil Defense Organization sponsored by Max Terry, freshman science teacher. The club was originally organized at junior high last year with the help of Maynard Sands, civil defense director.

The preamble of the club states, "We the people of the Independence Civil Defense Organization are organized to better ourselves for the protection of the nation in the event of natural or man-made disasters. Believing in God and the preservation of life and freedom we have written this charter to set a system under which we, the members, are to be governed."

The club, consisting of both freshmen and sophomores, planned various projects for the year such as first aid and survival courses. Posters were distributed in and around Independence advertising civil defense. A float was entered in the Halloween parade.

Officers elected for this year were president, Bob Nichols, vice-president, Joe Lee, secretary-treasurer, Rowena Cleaver and sergeant-at-arms and parliamentarian, Lewis Long.

blouses, royal blue skirts, black and white saddle oxfords, and blue beanies attended all home games and almost freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors in a proporand a president over the entire group.

Cultivates scientific talents

Judy Mercer, Claude Stone, Ronnie Carter and Bob Kindley examine a propagation chart which shows the various methods of budding and grafting.

The William Chrisman Science club was organized to assist its members in learning science. It is a proving ground for the discovery and cultivation of skills and talents based on science, a place to prepare for careers and hobbies in science.

Any student attending William Chrisman who has enrolled in one of the science classes is eligible for membership. Club members are responsible for the operation of the club program. Experiments, lectures and field trips are means of keeping up with fast moving developments in science.

The club is affiliated with the Science Clubs of American, an activity of Science Service, Washington, D. C. Members enter the Annual Science Talent Search for the Westinghouse Science Scholarships and Awards.

The science talented youth of today must maintain America's position in the scientific world of today. The Science club of William Chrisman joins forces in an important educational movement — discovery and developing scientific talent in American youth.

Spanish club furthers knowledge

Janice Oberhelman and Linda Smith are singing songs out of the Spanish song book, Contamos, while Judy Jo Johnson, Kent Hall and Beverly Jackson accompany them with Spanish instruments.

Spanish club encouraged its ninety-four members to further study the customs, the language and way of life of the Spanish speaking countries. The only requirement to become a member is that the student has taken Spanish, or is enrolled in Spanish. The club meets the third Thursday of each month.

Latin American speakers are featured on the programs. Some are direct descendants of Spanish parents; others are missionaries or businessmen who have traveled in Spanish-speaking countries. The members learn Latin American songs and dances.

Students who have traveled in Spanish speaking countries are often asked to talk about what they noted about the people, the way they lived, their customs, and their forms of entertainment. Members learned about Spanish speaking countries, too, by seeing films and by dances taught by students of Spanish lineage.

The entire play takes place in the living room of a boarding house for aspiring young actresses and tells of the fun and hardships of a career on the stage.

In the cast, but not pictured, were Jennine Hutchings, Sue Childers, Mary Ann Harris, Frances Mann, Linda Wills, Virginia Hoerle, Virginia McClain Freeman Jackson, Kent Hall, Lynn Ballew, J. D. Williamson, Sam Lewis, Phillip Brooks, Allan Guy, and Jack Miller.

The House Nobody Lived In, jr. play

The House Nobody Lived In is the story of Kenforth, an old and deserted mansion that hasn't been lived in for many years. It comes into the possession of one Virgil Keech, a miser, and the meanest man in town. He determines to make a lot of money out of the old place and rents it to a Mrs. Brenda Fortesque who has been traveling all over the country looking for a house that is haunted

A ghost with whom Mrs. Fortesque has become friendly (in her dreams) tells her that if she can find a haunted house she will be able to contact her late husband. But before the new tenant can take over, the body of Virgil Keech is discovered on the floor of Kenforth. There is a bullet wound in his side and he has been murdered!

The cast included Virgil Keech, Garry Moore; Judy Keech, Janice DeTray; Sherman Norton, Bob Hopkins; Barrow, J. D. Williamson; Wilson Orlando, Bill Fligg; Mrs. Brenda Fortesque, Jackie Huggins; Jinx Johnson, Janet Vaughan; Dolly Keene, Dolores Lienau; Mrs. Anastasia Morgan, Sue Childers; Gloria Arnold, Carolyn Pinson; Bonnie May, Susie Corken; Cyril Holmes, Dennis Street. Janet Vaughan or Jinx is trying to learn whether Dolores Lienau and Sue Childers are the two same busybodies who were here this afternoon."

Sharon Epperson as Maude Larrabee, Marv Ann Harris as Gretchen, Pat Timms as Julia, Janice Oberhelman as Margaret, David Green as Linus Larrabee, Sr., Joe Ben

Stone as David, and Jack Miller as Linus, Jr., listen intently as the chauffeur, played by Phil Brooks, tells how he has accumulated a fortune.

Sabrina Fair, senior play

"Sabrina Fair is a modern version of the Cinderella fable. Sabrina is the daughter of the family chauffeur for the Larrabees who are staggeringly rich and impeccably genteel. Fearfully brilliant and educated she comes home from five years in Paris, where she has done a stunning job in a United States overseas branch," wrote Brooks Atkinson in the New York Times.

As the 1958 Senior Play, Sabrina Fair was presented in the Theatre-in-the-Round February 12, 13, 14. Sabrina has come home to discover if she is still in love with the younger Larrabee son, David. Once at home, David begins to pursue her, aided by his brother, Linus, a cynical tycoon who has taken over control of the family fortune. There is also a rich Frenchman who follows her from Paris to see if she will marry him.

Both these young men dangle after her hopefully, but it's the elder son she loves, and at last, after a most amusing scene in which Sabrina's chauffeur father reveals that he, too, is a millionaire in his own right, Sabrina wins the man she loves.

Jeannine Hutchings played the part of Sabrina. Sharon Epperson appeared as Maude Larrabee, the beautiful mother who always sees her children's side as long as it coincides with her own; David Green as the elder Mr. Larrabee whose only passion in life is attending funerals; Phil Brooks as the millionaire chauffeur who keeps his job because he wants to read on someone else's time; and Pat Timms as the wise-cracking magazine editor who finally succeeds in pushing Sabrina and Linus, played by Jack Miller, into each other's arms.

Joe Ben Stone appeared as the younger son, David; Bob Williams as Paul, the "lovesick" Frenchman; Janice Oberhelman as Margaret, the housekeeper; and Mary Ann Harris as Gretchen, David's scheming ex-wife.

Maude, Julia, David, Linus, Sr., and Linus, Jr., talk with their guests, Lucretta Spillman, Lee Pickering, Beverly Jackson, and Dick Beattie at the garden party.

Sabrina, played by Jeannine Hutchings, tells her three admirers of her experiences in Paris. They are Bob Williams, Linus, Jr., and David.

My dear Mr. Garrison -
I have your letter of the 11th inst.
and am glad to hear that you are interested in the cause of the colored people. I have not been able to do much for them as yet but I am doing all I can.
Very respectfully,
Henry Jones

Farewell

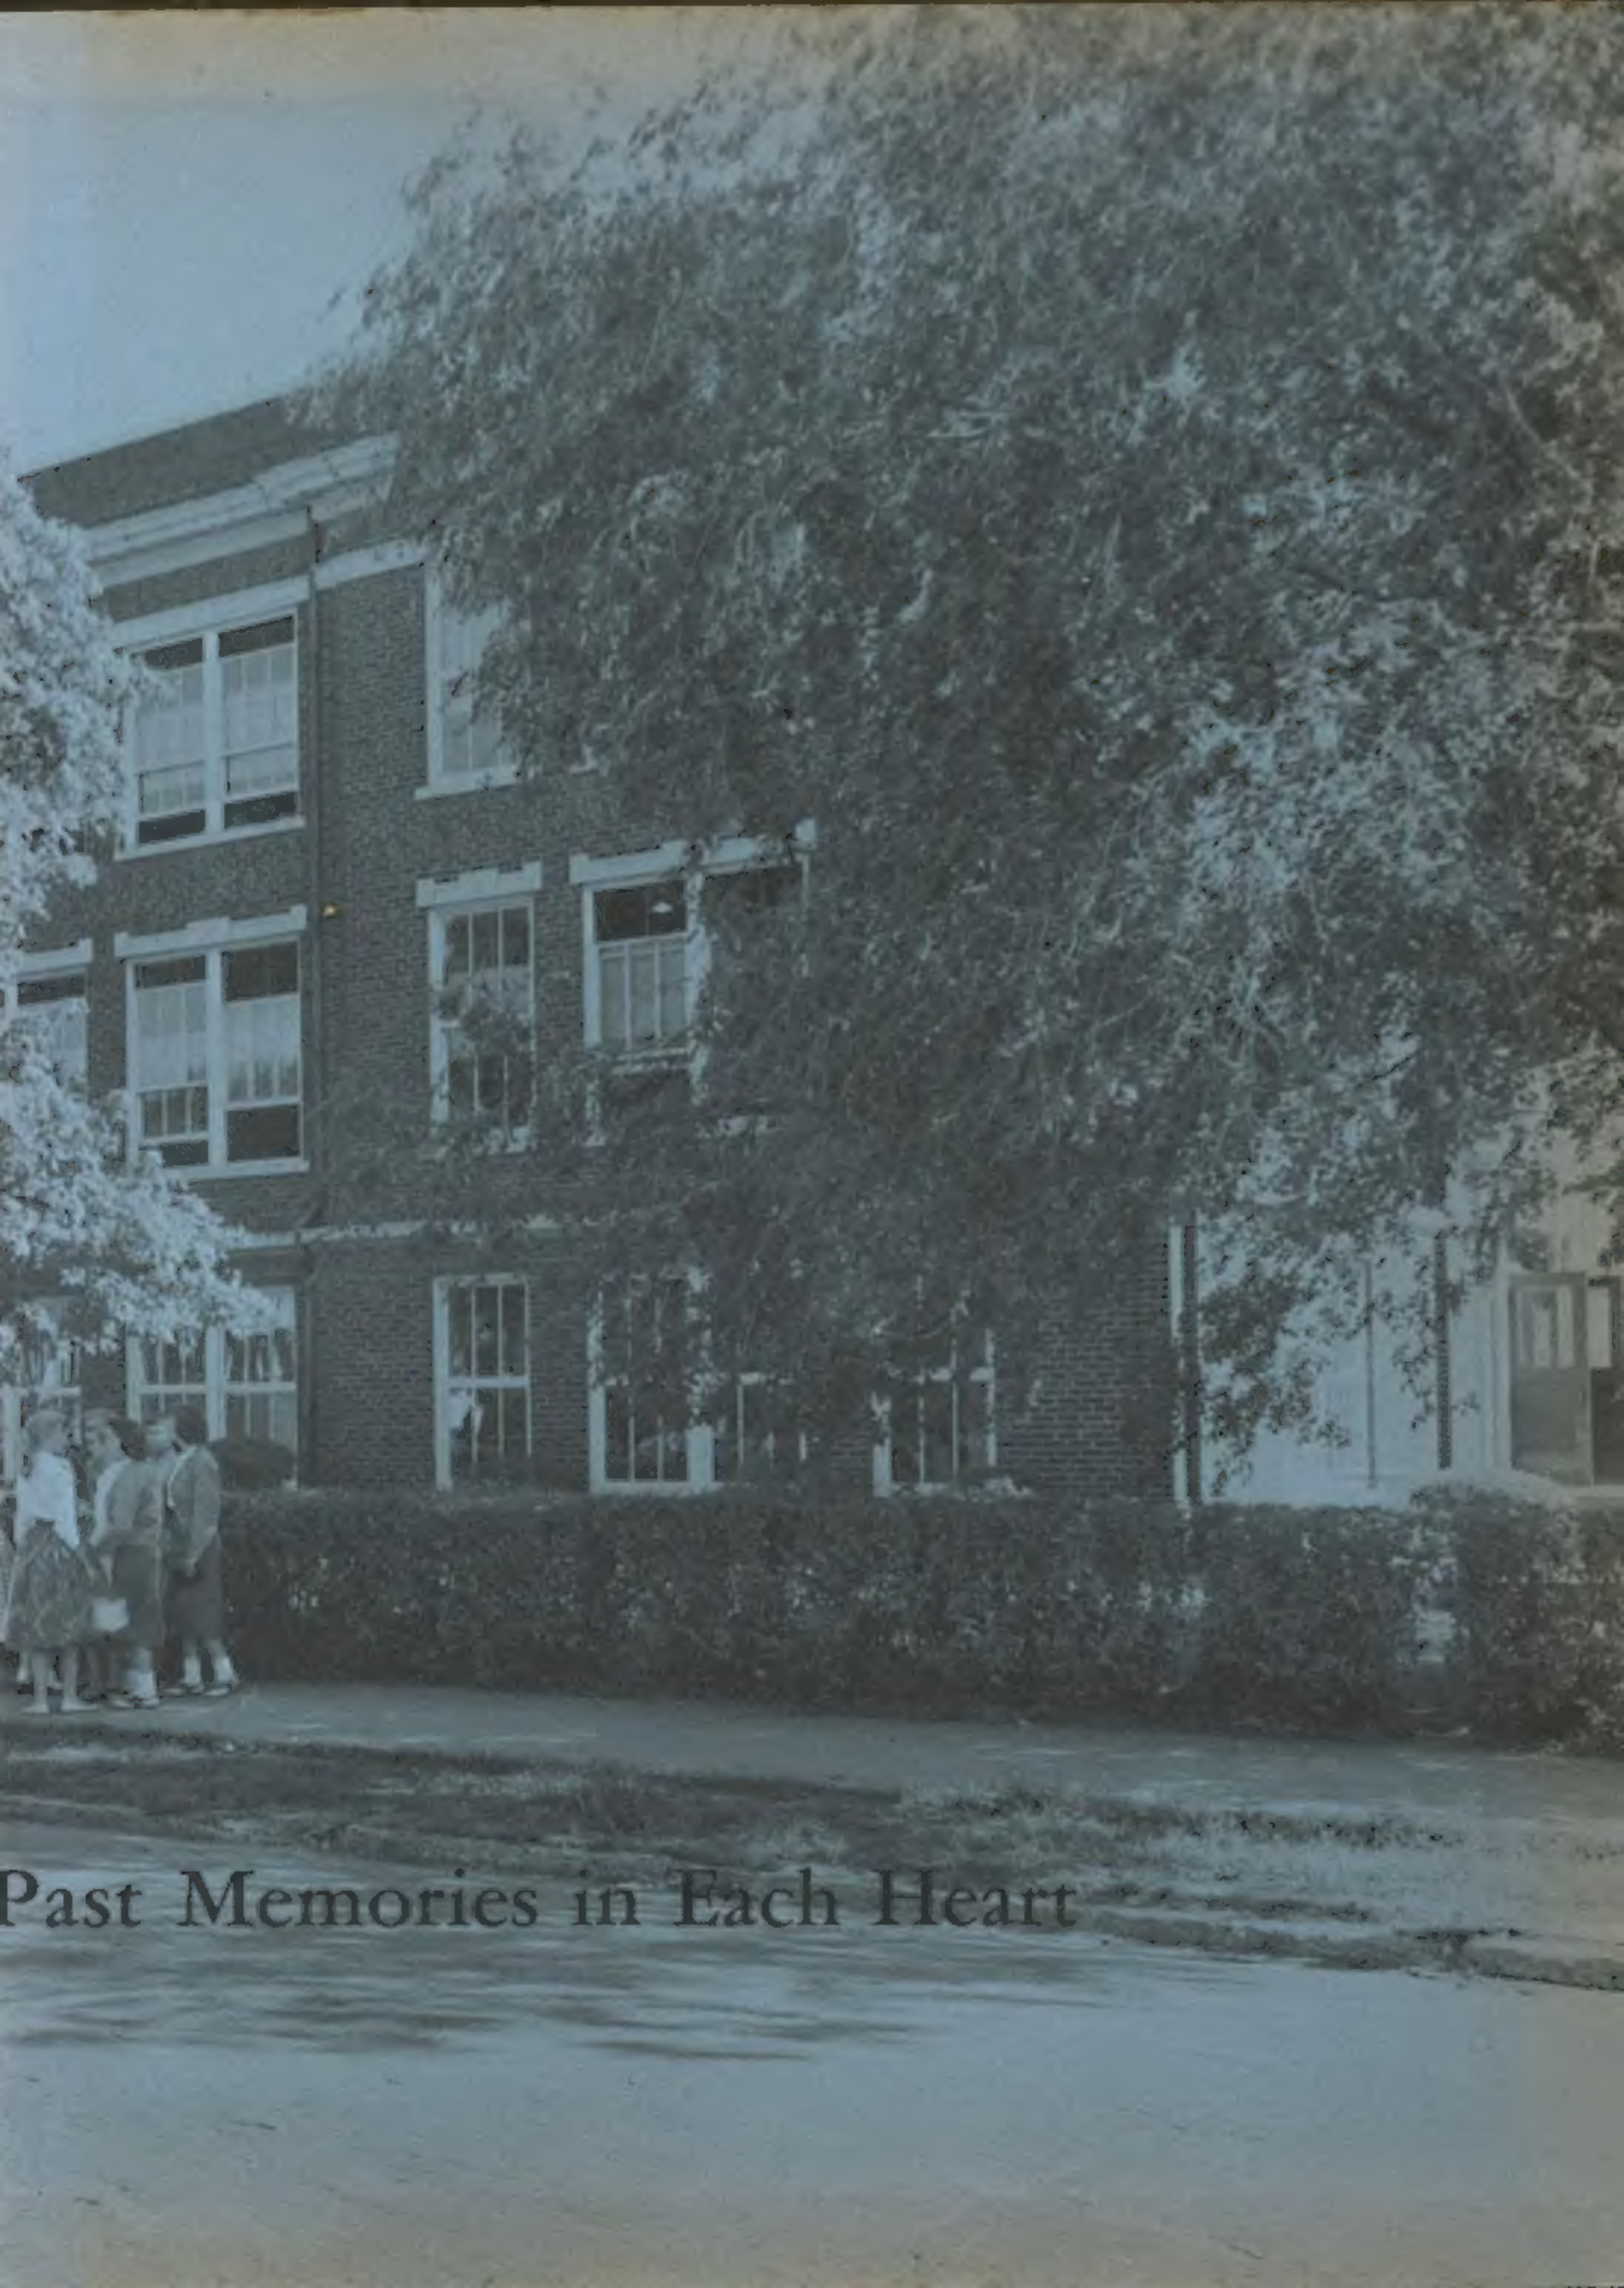

Not of the past,
Not of the present,
But of the future.

O, youthful senior,
Learn from experience
Of life's own way,
Work steadily onward,
Never look backward,
Guide your footsteps
"After it, Follow it,
Follow the Glean!"
Tennyson

Dear Donna,
It has been a ball knowing you this year, even if it was in that terrible English class. I hope to see you this summer and again next year.
I wish you the best of luck.
Love Ya,
Alfred.
